

Psychology Services

medicare

ORS is excited to announce we can now provide psychology services for Medicare referrals.

At ORS, we understand that seeking mental health support is an important step for supporting your overall wellbeing. That's why our national team of registered and endorsed psychologists are now offering therapeutic intervention services under Medicare via the Better Access and Eating Disorder Psychological Treatment (EDPT) schemes.

These services are available face-to-face across select ORS locations and via telehealth* to ensure support is accessible when and where it's needed. Our psychologists provide respectful, evidence-informed therapy tailored to each person's unique experiences and goals, and work collaboratively with GPs and wider healthcare professionals involved in supporting you in your mental health.

ORS can support referrals for clients of all ages experiencing:

- › Anxiety, depression, and mood-related disorders
- › Adjustment difficulties, including grief and loss
- › Trauma and stress
- › Disordered eating and body image concerns
- › Psychosis and alcohol or substance use
- › Emotion regulation and interpersonal difficulties
